GREYHOUND LEADER

You were built for speed. Like the Greyhound, you spot the horizon before others even look up. Your ability to move fast, think ahead, and energize those around you is what makes you a leader worth following.

Lead at Your Best

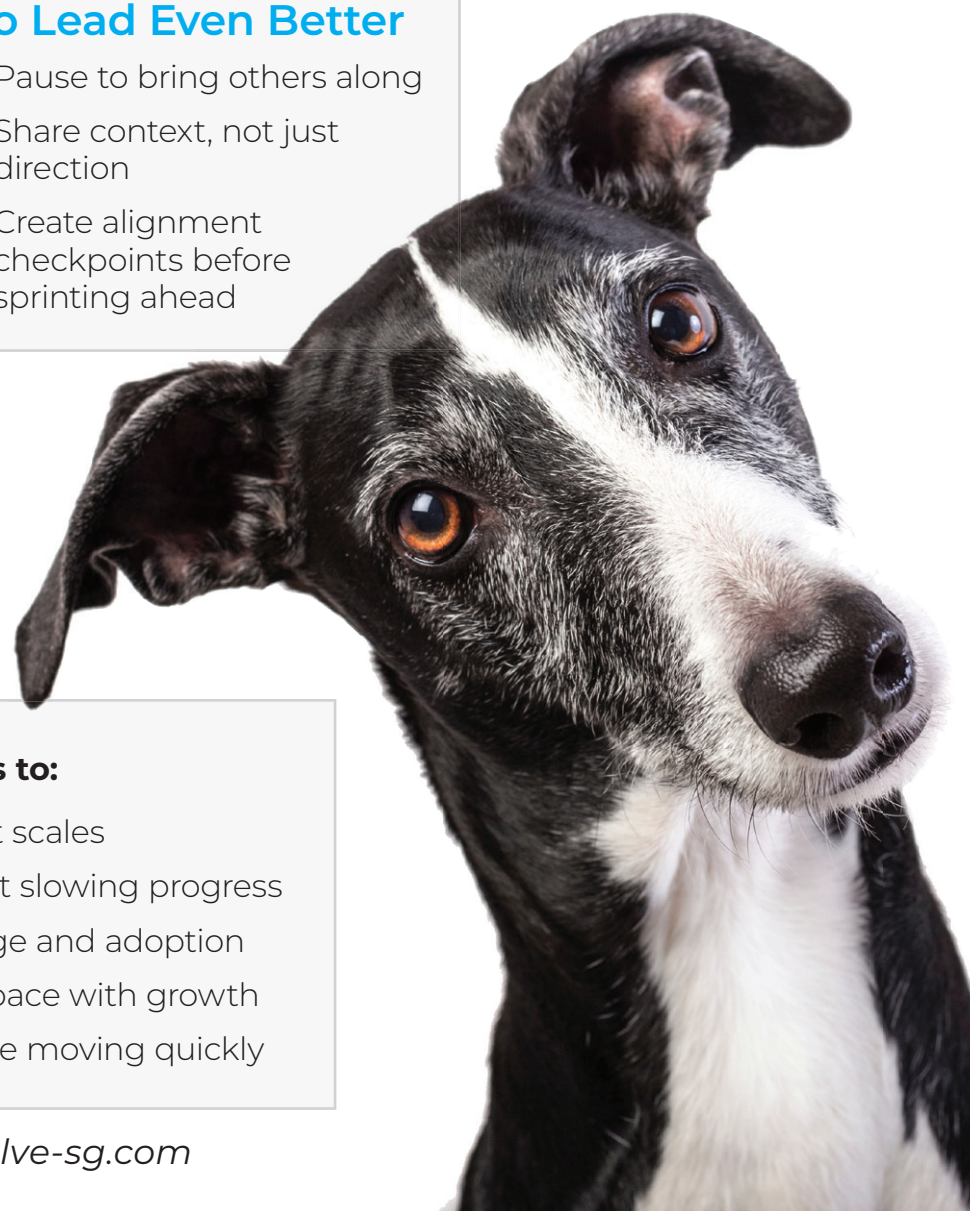
You Lead with Speed, Vision, and Momentum

Your Leadership Strengths

- Spot trends early and move fast
- Energize teams with innovation
- Thrive in change and experimentation

To Lead Even Better

- Pause to bring others along
- Share context, not just direction
- Create alignment checkpoints before sprinting ahead



Watch Out When Under Pressure

You may move so quickly that others lose context, clarity, or confidence.

Leadership Sweet Spot

Move fast but make sure the pack is still with you.

You Don't Have to Do This Alone

You move fast and think ahead. We help make sure your momentum brings the whole team with you.

We partner with Greyhound leaders to:

- Translate big ideas into learning that scales
- Create clarity and alignment without slowing progress
- Design training that supports change and adoption
- Build learning strategies that keep pace with growth
- Act as a sounding board when you're moving quickly

Working with Other Breeds

Your instinct is to move fast and lead with vision. Flex by slowing the pace and adding clarity.

Chihuahua

Your momentum can heighten their caution and uncertainty.

- Provide reassurance and clear context upfront
- Allow time to process new ideas before acting
- Encourage questions and dialogue
- Break big changes into smaller steps
- Reinforce confidence through clarity and consistency

Doodle

Your focus on speed can scatter their energy if priorities aren't clear.

- Give them freedom to explore ideas and possibilities
- Align early on priorities, success criteria, and deadlines
- Help narrow focus when options multiply
- Let them help connect ideas across teams or projects
- Keep momentum moving with clear next steps

Bulldog

Your appetite for change can clash with their need for structure.

- Frame innovation within structure and clear expectations
- Share proof points, data, or pilot results
- Respect their need for process and planning
- Clarify roles, responsibilities, and timelines
- Avoid last-minute changes whenever possible

Golden Retriever

Your urgency can unintentionally bypass their need for connection.

- Recognize effort and progress, not just results
- Invite collaboration before final decisions are made
- Balance urgency with encouragement and positivity
- Share appreciation publicly when possible
- Check in on how change impacts people, not just outcomes
